Judge J, A. Murray is doing some val uable service on the stump for his party in this state.

Gov. BUCKNER since his return from the east has consented to make a few speeches for the Democratic State ticket. Hon, P. Wat Hardin will take the stump

THE Democrats of Ohio have held their State Convention and again put Governor Campbell at the head of the state ticket. There was some opposition in the convention to the renomination of Campbell, but he seems to be the man to carry the party to victory in that state another year.

As for Cleveland for the Presidency in 1892. Mr. Watterson says, He is for his nomination if New York consents. But if the attitude of the New York Democracy indicates that Mr. Cleveland will be knifed out of the vote of the state again, as he was before, it would be sucicidal to nominate him, and when the party leaves Cleveland it leaves New COLEP. WAT HARDIN knocked all the wind out of Peffer, the Third party man, in a joint debate at Frankfort a few days since. Peffer came over from Kansas to do up the Democracy of this state, but before Wat Hardin got through with him he was more than willing to throw up the job. Our Frankfort correspondent tells us in another column how "Wat"

LET US CONSIDER. It is not quite two weeks until the election. It is customary to say that each canvass is hotter than any that preceded it, but it can hardly be said of this one, much as conditions would seem to indicate it. Every effort has been put party and these efforts have not always been seasoned with honesty and justice. Teh platform upon which the opposition party aimed to make their fight can be expressed in very few words and is simply "anything to beat the Democrat nominee. The office must be had and in order to get it he must be defeated." As to methods, circumstances should suggest them. Harned has made his fight from every point on which he could make a temporary stand, and when drive ters should be assailed. en from one he flew to another. Now, his resources are exhausted and he must face a full fire in the open field. He has learned as Josh Billings did that a man parties and preserve an average. Before he knows it both of them have him analyzed and marked traitor. If the Democratic party should be beaten this time, who beat it? What party or what principle defeats it? Think for a moment of the combination of ideas arrayed against it. a theory. It is not antagonized by the Republican party as a party because they have named no candidate. It is not antagonized by the Alliance united and working in harmony on a definite platform. That order, prohibited from making a political nomination, has had its principles twisted by a few officehungry individuals to fit emergencies until its basic principles are lost in a fog. The simplest statement of conditions is that the Democrat party is antagonized by a man who wants an office, and must have it at all hazards. Why has Harned changed his tactics so often at the different appointments? It was a matter of necessity. A canvass intended to catch the vote of all parties and classes must necessarily be varied and indefinite. What catches one crowd fails to catch another, and the candidate soon finds himself bewildered amid propositions from which he cannot extricate himself. Such is the hopeless situation of Harned at present, and the people seeing his predicament and the futile schemes indulged in by his lientenants are growing sick of it all.

paign, what would it be in an administration? If Harned was elected to whom would be indebted? To what party would he be under obligations? Has everybody been going wrong all these years? Have we all groped our way in political darkness, ignorant of our own needs, waiting for 1892 to bring us a Moses that should leads us out of the wilderness? Is this man divinely appointed that we should believe him, when he tells us we are all wrong, never knew what was right, and the only way out is to lay down all and follow him. Think of it gentlemen, Republicans and Democrats. A man says I would not vote for either of your parties. They are too corrupt for me, but you just come out from among them and vote for me. "Presumption" doesn't half express such | to the illness of his partner, Mr. D. Hon. Tice Jolly set himself right before his party and the people at Hardinsburg last Monday in a neat little speech explaining how he came off the track. Owing to a vacancy in the office of Surveyor, caused by the resignation of Mr. F. M. C. Jolly, it becomes necessary to elect some one to fill the unexpired term of two years. Encouraged by numerous solicitations from all parts of the county, and notuated by a deep interest in the welfare of the Democratic party, I have decided to make the race, and, if possible, push it to a glorious victory. I am in-formed that my opponent is making no person-al canvass, and as I could not well do so, I shall merely make the announcement, trust-ing that those interested, either in my behalf, or that of the Democratic party, will rally to the assistance of the ticket, thereby gaining such a victory as will be a credit to the party.
